TIFFANY STUDIOS
MADISON AVENUE AND 45th STREET
NEW YORK CITY

PREFACE

In the Spring of 1916 the Tiffany Studios invited Mr. Harry Oatway of London to bring for exhibit and sale a portion of his collection of antiques. The arrangement proved to be entirely successful, and Mr. Oatway returned to London and has now brought back with him to this country a further selection.

In order that our friends and clients may have a clear knowledge of the articles, we have prepared a catalogue and we invite attention to the following pages, which contain a descriptive list and the prices.

We have only to add that every piece will carry with it the recommendation and guarantee of the Tiffany Studios, and a cordial invitation is extended to all who are interested, either as purchasers or otherwise, to visit the Studios.

Sèvres mark and date letter—1767, and mark of Aloncle, the artist who decorated the set. From the John Cockshutt Collection | 1,250.00 |

NUMBER

- 257 LARGE SÈVRES PLATEAU of finest quality, oval in form, the centre painted in birds in landscape, surrounded by a green border richly gilt with partridge eye decoration; the edge shaped and richly gilt, as are the scrolls which form handles. Marked with Sèvres monogram, date letter denoting the year 1770 and decorator's mark: Aloncle. From the John Cockshutt Collection $1,500.00
- 258 WALNUT HARPSICHORD on finely modelled stand, with turned and cabriole legs carved in acanthus ornament and terminating in ball and claw feet. The case, of finely figured walnut divided into panels by inlaid bandings of kingwood and with original brass mounts, is undoubtedly of the early years of Queen Anne. The double keyboard is beautifully inlaid with marquetry of the finest description, equal in quality and refinement to that produced during the contemporary and the best period of Louis XVI, and was probably executed by a French master of the art. It is inscribed "Jacobus et Abraham Kirchman, Londini Fecerunt 1772." About this date many harpsichords of early 18th century make were altered from the single to the double keyboard and this would account for the difference between the earlier design and manufacture of the case and stand to the date mentioned 1,500.00
- 259 A PAIR OF MAHOGANY PEDESTALS, each fitted with two recesses, the upper being enclosed by a tambour shutter and the lower by a door, ornamented with a carved wreath; bronzed ornaments on frieze and rail round three sides of top. English Empire. Circa 1810 150.00
- 260 MAHOGANY SIDE TABLE in the Adam taste, with carved pateræ and inlaid frieze and legs. Circa 1780 125.00
